Customer Reviews

Author sai james has written five self help books on Network Marketing. Each brief volume focuses on one aspect of the concept of Network marketing, and because this means of advertising and selling is growing in popularity it is a timely course for both beginners and still has some tips of those who are in the fold of network marketing already. As sai states in the Introduction, "Network marketing is an increasingly popular business structure in which a strong distributor network is needed to grow a business and market its products". Network marketing businesses usually require a small upfront investment of $ 200 or less. This investment comes with starter kits and a series of training and development programs. This business model allows you to earn commission through your own sales revenue and the revenue of your recruits, also known as the "downline". While there are many dubious network marketing companies, there are also thousands of legitimate MLM (multi-level marketing) opportunities worldwide. This particular installment is on Recruiting Prospects. The book is built gradually to implement the ideas presented. The sections are Establish Yourself As An Expert (Build Your Confidence, Create Your Own Network Marketing Blog or YouTube Channel); Set Big Goals and Visualize Success (Goal Setting Tip, Visualize Success); Pick the Right Prospect(Distinguish the Diamonds from the Stones), Plan Carefully (Daily Routine); Close Deals Effectively; Use Social Media; and Follow Through. One of the reasons sai's books are helpful is the use of language to which everyone can relate. And there are bits of distilled wisdom to absorb, such as "Confidence is the key to establishing yourself as a network marketing expert.
